Trial room safety tips

- Always remember the first thing to do when you enter a trial room is to close the light (wherever possible) and put your phone in the camera mode and move it around the room. What you need to look for is a red light and if in case you spot one, raise an alarm! The trial room is bugged.
- You could also try to make a call through your mobile phone inside the trial room. In case there is a hidden camera in the room you cannot make calls due to interference of fiber optics during signal transfer, which often blocks calls.
- Don't forget to check/look for two-way mirrors. To identify this is to simply touch the mirror in the changing room with your index finger. In case your reflection is very close, it's a two-way mirror and someone might be watching from the other side of the mirror.
- As a golden rule never remove the clothes you were wearing but while trying something new, try it on top of what you are already wearing. The purpose of a trial room is just to check how the clothes fit, you could always do a closer inspection within the closed confines of your home.
